

Puritan Reformed THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Open Position | Professor of Biblical Counseling

The Professor of Biblical Counseling – in collaboration with the President, Academic Dean, Faculty, and the Director of the Biblical Counseling Program – will serve in the MABC, MDiv, and DMin (Counseling) programs at Puritan Reformed. The position offers a unique opportunity to collaborate in the seminary's blended-learning doctoral program with residential faculty, partner institutions, and visiting professors from across the world, an international student body, and research institutes.

Primary responsibilities: 1) teaching Biblical Counseling courses MABC, MDiv, and DMin (Counseling) programs; 2) mentoring counseling students; 3) supervising or co-supervising DMin projects; 4) producing scholarly publications; 5) leading and participating in research projects; 6) sharing departmental and committee tasks; 7) developing a Reformed Biblical Counseling theory and practice that distinctly reflect the Reformed tradition; 8) participating in and contributing to the international academy.

Required education and experience: The successful applicant must hold a doctoral degree in Biblical Counseling, preferably a PhD degree, and should have the following skills and characteristics: demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, publication, and supervision; demonstrated success working independently and collaboratively with faculty, researchers, and research groups in Biblical Counseling and related disciplines; pastoral and preaching experience that reflect familiarity with contemporary culture; and experience in distance education.

The successful candidate will wholeheartedly embrace and actively promote the confessional and experiential truths of the classical Reformed tradition. He should be committed in doctrine and practice to the preparation of students to serve Christ and His church through biblical, Reformed, experiential, and practical ministry, and formally subscribe to the Three Forms of Unity and/or the Westminster Standards.

Inquiries about the vision and mission of the Biblical Counseling degree programs, please contact, Dr. Mark Kelderman (mark.kelderman@prts.edu)

Qualified candidates should send the following documents in PDF format to the Academic Dean, Dr. Jonathon Beeke: (jonathon.beeke@prts.edu):

1. A letter of application that summarizes the candidate's experience and qualifications;
2. A current curriculum vitae, including details of publications, teaching, and ecclesiastical affiliation and service;
3. Contact information for three personal references.

Deadline: October 18, 2024 (or until position filled).

Salary will be commensurate with rank, qualifications, and experience.
